Statement of Claim

State here as briefly as possible the FACTS in your case. Do this by describing how each defendant named in Section III.B above is personally involved in depriving you of your rights. Include relevant times, dates, and places. DO NOT GIVE LEGAL ARGUMENTS OR CITE ANY CASES OR STATUTES. You may only combine claims involving events that relate to all defendants. Number and set forth each separate claim in a separate paragraph. Unrelated claims involving separate events must be set out in a separate complaint. (Attach extra sheets, if necessary.)

I have tried to get a understanding with jail staff, Sheriff Van Shaw, Captain M. Nesbitt, Lieutenant W. Wallace, concerning my rights to practice my religion, by and through grievance process, even through general request, I even wrote to north Carolina prisoner legal services, ACLU north Carolina. I have tried to request my religious preference bible the book of YHWH, The only bible the jail provide is christian bible, My request was denied by L.T. Wallace, I appeal to Cpt. Nesbitt who also denied my request. I tried to request my issue to Sheriff Shaw but Lt. Wallace told me the won't hear my complaint. The Lieutenant and Captain both know I am indigent and the only person I have who use to send me money was my girl who is now lockup. But in both jail staff responses I was told to have someone to send in the Hebrew bible. I have also requested through grievance process to be taking out the pod and put inside the side class room wich be open on Sunday when the Gideons come to preach christianity belief. But once again my grievance request was denied forcing me to listing to christianity preaching that I am going to hell if I don't pray to Jesus. Jail staff response was by them keeping my tray slot close that I should not be able to hear see "Exhibits 2-3" but thats not true when everybody quit and someone standing in middle of pod speaking in loud voice thier words echo so I can hear the Gideons even when the tray slot is close. And here in the Cabarrus County Detention Center it's two men to a cell and I have been in fights cause I have had all room mates that won't to hear the Gideons because thier christianity belief. I also submitted a Grievance on February 21, 2019. Concerning my Kosher diet wich is also apart of my Hebrew Israelite religious belief practice. See Exhibits 6-16. L.T. Wallace response was the vegan diet meets the same requirements as the kosher diet. L.T. Wallace is no Food expert vegan diet is not Kosher Food. The Kosher diet and vegan diet are two different types of diets. Also my Hebrew Israelite beliefs Keep the pasover "New moon" I can not eat any bread with yeast through first week of April. In the kosher diet they have bread call matze, The jail here don't even provide matze on any diets. Also the grape juice is also apart of my religious belief special diet. The jail do not provide grape juice on any diets.

VI. Relief

STATE BRIEFLY EXACTLY WHAT YOU WANT THE COURT TO DO FOR YOU. MAKE NO LEGAL ARGUMENTS. CITE NO CASES OR STATUTES.

I seek $10,000 in damages a new policy that say Cabarrus county Detention center prisoners of all religious beliefs be treated equal. And the jail stop forcing pre-trial detainees who don't want to participate on Sundays with Gideons Christianity Fellowship, I respectfully requesting we be remove from the pod when the Gideons comes into preach. I am suing Lieutenant W. Wallace for $5,000 monetary damages in his individual capacity. I am suing Captain M. Nesbitt for $5,000 monetary damages in his individual capacity. I am suing Sheriff Van Shaw for injunctive relief in official capacity. I also requesting cabarrus county jail respect the kosher diet in thier new policy. I respectfully request the following above relief for the mental and emotional injuries jail staff cause me. And for such other and further relief to which the plaintiff may be entitled and which the court my deem just and proper.

Dear Mr. Whitley:

We received your recent letter regarding your First Amendment right to practice your religion. Our office manages The Safe and Humane Jails Project. Under this project we collect and record information about North Carolina jails, and we work to ensure the health and safety of inmates throughout the state. Acting on behalf of inmates like you, we work on a cooperative basis with jail staff to correct health or safety issues concerning multiple inmates. We provide general legal advice and information, but we do not represent individuals in lawsuits against county jails.

We encourage you to resolve your concern on your own by filing a grievance at the jail or by speaking to officials about your concerns if you believe that jail policies are being violated. You will find a memo with the law regarding religion in jails. You can seek the advice of other attorneys, and you may be able to file a lawsuit on your own. There are strict time-limits for filing different kinds of lawsuits. Failure to file suit within the time allowed by law may prevent you from getting your case into court. The information we have provided should be helpful to you in this regard. With this letter, we are closing your file.

Sincerely,

Taittione Miles
Staff Attorney

Enclosures: Religious Claims in Prison Memorandum
Statute of Limitations Law Memorandum

RELIGIOUS CLAIMS IN PRISONS OR JAILS

North Carolina jail inmates can resolve most religious exercise problems without filing a lawsuit. You should use your facility's grievance procedures or submit a request form to appropriate officials within your facility before filing a lawsuit. Often, this is a much more effective way of getting your needs met than filing a lawsuit.

In religion claims, Courts balance an inmate's right to exercise religion with the safety and security interests of correction officials. In the past, the legal standard for the balancing test was a "minimal scrutiny" test. A minimal scrutiny means that a regulation restricting the exercise of religion was valid if it was reasonably related to legitimate penological interests." Turner v. Safley, 482 U.S. 78 at 89 (1987). Courts also considered other factors under a minimal scrutiny test including: "the existence of alternative means for inmates to exercise their constitutional rights; the impact that accommodation would have on guards, inmates, and prison resources; and whether alternatives to the prison regulation are available at a "de minimus cost." Id. at 90-91.

Inmates can bring lawsuits about the free exercise of religion under both the Constitution and the Religious Land Use and Institutionalized Persons Act (RLUIPA) 42 U.S.C.S. § 2000cc et seq. RLUIPA is more favorable to inmates, but prisoners cannot seek money damages for violations of RLUIPA, Sossamon v. Texas, 131 S.Ct. 1651, 1663 (2011). RLUIPA made the law a little more favorable to prisoners raising religion claims. The balancing test is now that the prison or jail's restriction does not create "a substantial burden" on the inmate's ability to practice his or her religion. The religious restriction must be: 1) in furtherance of a compelling governmental interest; and 2) the least restrictive means of furthering that compelling governmental interest." 42 U.S.C. § 2000cc-1.

The Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals further defined "substantial burden" by stating that a substantial burden occurs "when a state or local government, through act or omission, put[s] substantial pressure on an adherent to modify his behavior and to violate his beliefs." Lovelace v. Lee, 472 F.3d 174, 187 (4th Cir. Va. 2006) (internal quotations omitted). Once an inmate shows the restriction is a substantial burden on the ability to practice his or her religion, the defendants must show that the religious restriction is the least restrictive means of furthering a compelling governmental interest." Id. at 189. It is very hard to show that a prison's security interests are not compelling governmental interests because Courts give heavy weight to evidence showing the policy or action is the least restrictive means of furthering that compelling interest.

12/10/2018	Mr. Whitley, I'm curious as to what made you decide to resubmit your complaint after you told Lt. Wallace you were good with things the way they were. I ask, because not only did you tell Lt. Wallace you were good with things the way they were this time, but you also told Lt. Lister the last time you were here, that closing the tray slot would address your issue, the last time you were in our facility. You are on the upper tier of your pod and if your door and tray slot are both closed, then there should be no issue of you hearing what's being said on the lower tier, no matter who it is. Most people can't hear what's being said directly to them, when the person is standing in front of their cell door. I'm not sure if this helps you any, but the Gideon's are non-denominational and I've found that Hebrew Israelites adhere to the King James version of the Bible. While again, there should be no issue with you having to hear what the Gideon's are saying if you don't want too, it seems they are sharing is the same as your belief. So, is this really what your issue is about?		m nesbitt

	I originally went to respond to this, but saw that you were in Rowan County for another case. I apologize for the delay in this response, since you were on transport. My response was an attempt to address any concern that you have. In doing so, I asked you a couple of questions in an attempt to address your grievance. Not answering the questions on your part, shows an unwillingness on your part, to assist us in addressing your grievance. I will be more than happy to provide you any records of these grievances/responses, for your records when I return.

3/1/2019	I will send you all the request and grievances. As I have told you already, our facility recognizes the vegan diet (which we offer for religious reasons) to be applicable for the requested religious kosher diet as well. At this point I will not schedule you to receive the diet as you have stated that you do not want the diet we use for kosher, the vegan diet. Should you change your mind please let me know and I will be happy to accommodate your request for a special diet during your religious observance of New Moon.			w wallace Exhibit-16
